Dr. S. Parkes Cadman To Be Commencement Speaker

That enterprising school paper The Heronite has a "scoop" on the local newspapers in announcing that Dr. S. Parkes Cadman has been selected as the Commencement speaker at the graduation exercises of Mount Hermon School and The Northfield Seminary on the 6th of June in the Auditorium.

Northfield people will be glad to hear of this announcement and congratulate those responsible for making the engagement.

Dr. Cadman is a graduate of Richmond College, Surrey, England, and for the past thirty-one years he has been the pastor of the Central Congregational Church in Brooklyn, New York. Many honors have been bestowed upon Dr. Cadman by the leading educational institutions of our country—Yale, Wesleyan, Syracuse, Columbia, Vermont, New York University, and many others.

Today Dr. Cadman is president of the Golden Rule League and the official radio preacher for the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. And his is a familiar voice to many each Sunday over the radio. He is also the author of many books.

Seminary Concert Was Very Pleasing

Miss Edith Piper of New York gave a song recital in the Seminary Entertainment Course last Saturday evening in Silverthorne Hall before an audience of students and friends that completely filled the room. Miss Piper has been a student of Sembrich and has sung in the American Opera company hand in solos with the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra. And her singing delighted all.

Did Not Appear

Through a misunderstanding in regard to dates, the Quaker Oat man did not appear to show his pictures at the Grange Hall last Tuesday night as advertised. The Grange is very sorry indeed that so many were disappointed. However, The Grange has his promise to come at a later date and he assures us that he will not disappoint us next time but will furnish us with a full evening's entertainment. Due announcement will be made.

North Church Notes

Rev. W. W. Coe preached last Sunday morning and his subject was the "Book of Life." In the evening the Rev. C. Tilford Erickson, D. D., President of the Albanian American Institute, Kavaja, Albania, occupied the pulpit.

On Tuesday the mid-week Bible Class again met with Mrs. L. R. Smith and on Wednesday the Mothers meeting was held at the home of Mrs. William R. Moody at three o'clock when Mrs. Moody made an address appropriate to the Christmas season.

The next regular Communion Service will be held on Sunday, January 3. The church committee will meet at the close of the prayer meeting Thursday evening December 17 to confer with those who desire to unite with the Church by letter or on confession of faith.

The following announcements are of interest: Sunday evening, December 13, a service of Christmas Carols by the Seminary students at Sage Chapel. Sunday, Dec. 20th, at four o'clock, a Christmas Vesper Service in charge of the Sunday School, in the Church, taking the place of our usual evening service. Tuesday evening, December 22, Christmas tree social, with supper for the Juniors, to be followed by a Christmas entertainment under the direction of the Sunday School.

The monthly meeting of the officers and teachers of the Congregational Sunday school will be held in the church vestry next Monday evening December 14. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock. A business session will follow, when the committees will report on Christmas plans. Prof. H. H. Morse will also tell something of his experiences in Palestine last summer. Especially as the new light on the Bible.

Montgomery Ward To Close Greenfield Store

Announcement has been made that Montgomery Ward and Co. will close their Greenfield store as soon as the present stock is liquidated, according to the announcement by D. J. Foley, store manager.

It is thought several weeks will be necessary to complete liquidation and during that period practically the entire stock of fall and winter merchandise, amounting to thousands of dollars, is to be sold.

In regard to the decision to close the local store, Manager Foley stated: "The closing of the Greenfield store has no relation to the present business conditions existing throughout the country, but is simply part of the readjustment program that necessarily must follow an experience such as Ward's underwent in 1928 and 1929. The local store has received a substantial volume of business ever since it opened a few years ago. However, it is the feeling of the officials of the company that the Ward catalogue adequately serves this community and the surrounding trade territory."

The store has had a good patronage from Northfield and vicinity which was appreciated as the advertising in The Northfield Herald shows. The store in Brattleboro will continue.

Northfield Boxes Arrive At Crossnore

The two large packing boxes filled with old clothes and supplies sent from Northfield recently mostly by summer residents have arrived at Crossnore School in North Carolina and were immediately placed in the Crossnore workshop where alterations and new clothes will be made by the students and sold for the benefit of the school. Mrs. Sloop the matron of the school is especially grateful to her Northfield friends.

Mrs. Sloop in her letter invites friends to join the Crossnore opportunity Club at one dollar a year to whom they will send a letter and notes on the programs of the school annually with literature concerning the activities of the school. This dollar will be used for daily expenses in our school, mostly grocery bills. No matter how much we raise the grocery bills still are urgent. And do you know that we have one hundred thirty-five children to feed?

I know you have helped us and we are grateful but we want this special dollar right now from you and your friends.

We are counting on you and oh, how we need it! Please do not expect us to acknowledge the receipt of this dollar. It takes two cents and stationery and time and we need these. We will tell the Lord how grateful we are to you and maybe He will pass it on to you in a sense of well-doing.

The address is Mary Martin Sloop Crossnore School, Crossnore N. C. These memberships may also be sent to Mrs. William F. Hoehn, East Northfield.

Northfield Children See Heidi In Greenfield

In spite of the severe storm on Friday, December fourth more than seventy children and adults from Northfield and Mount Hermon attended the children's play, "Heidi," at the Greenfield High School Auditorium. The delight manifested in the happy faces of all, and the rapt attention of the large audience gave proof of the entire success of the production. The only disappointment expressed by some of the children was because Peter's goats did not actually appear. We felt sure they were just around the hill-top, but didn't get a glimpse of them.

The local committee of Northfield women sponsoring this production, is glad to arrange for free motor transportation for all those who have tickets or wish to secure single admissions, and who have no means of conveyance.

The guests of the Parent Teacher Association for "Heidi" were Richard Mann, and Eva Fisher of the No. 3 School. The three Fortnightly tickets were awarded to Gilbert Hammond, Grade 4, and Chester Scoble, Grade 7, for the greatest improvement in writing; and to Eugene Galvis, for greatest improvement in arithmetic. These three children are in the Lower Farms School.

All five children have written their appreciation of "Heidi" for publication in The Northfield Herald. We all will agree that these children enjoyed greatly, their entertainment at the Children's Theatre by the P. T. A., and the Fortnightly.

I enjoyed very much the part where the Alm Uncle waved his arms in the air stamped his feet on the ground, and shouted at Dedi to be off, and never to show up again. After Dedi left, Heidi ran inside of the cottage to explore. I liked the way she went to the loft window and called out to her grandfather.

I wish I could have seen the same view that Heidi saw as she looked out over the Swiss Mountains, and down through the valley, that evening before she went to bed.

Eva Fisher.
Grade V.
No. 3 School

The part I liked best in the play, "Heidi," was when Heidi thought the Swiss Mountains were on fire. She felt frightened, as she stood there with the goats. She hurried to find Peter. He told her that it wasn't a fire, but the sun reflecting on the

Much Bad Weather Causes Auto Accidents And Many Mishaps

An automobile driven by Mrs. Raymond A. Schwab of 16 Winter street, Springfield, Vt., and Walter Koski, 6 Atwood street, Brattleboro came together last Sunday evening at Bernardston and two occupants were sent to the hospital with injuries. After the light rain the roads were very slippery.

Mrs. Schwab who was driving toward Brattleboro put on her brakes to turn out for a man walking in the road. She skidded, turned sideways and hit the Koski car which was going toward Greenfield. Koski and his companion suffered cuts about the head and face and body bruises. Mrs. Schwab was uninjured. Her husband sustained a cut over the right ear, which required several stitches to close. He was taken home by friends. The Koski car was towed to Spencer's Garage here.

Atwood Fitzherbert of the Northfield road, Bernardston, is at the Franklin County Public hospital, recovering from injuries received Saturday, when his car crashed into a telephone pole on the Bernardston road. Fitzherbert suffered a gash over the right ear and sustained a severe shaking up. The accident is said to have happened when the driver turned out to avoid collision with a truck approaching from a side street. Fitzherbert was alone. The car, which was wrecked, was towed to a Bernardston garage.

Last Sunday afternoon on the Hinsdale Road a car with New Jersey plates and containing four passengers skidded and was badly ditched, the occupants suffering bruises and cuts which required medical attention.

Woman's Club Broadcast

"Musical Fads of Today" will be the theme of Bainbridge Crist, guest speaker for Mrs. George F. Schroeder, chairman of music of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's clubs, broadcasting in the weekly Saturday morning half-hour from WBZ, December 12, at 11.30 a.m. The Boston Vocal Ensemble, including Blanche Haskell, soprano, Marion Wise, contralto, Edgar Isherwood, tenor, G. Roberts Lunger, bass and Edwin Biltcliffe, accompanist, will give selections from "The Morning of the Year," by Cadman.

Handicraft Leaders Are Busy Here

The Northfield Handicraft leaders held their first training meeting Wednesday evening, December 2, at the club rooms upstairs in the firehouse. The leaders present were Henry Johnson, Clifford Field, W. G. Slate and Miss Jessie Palmer. The playground equipment which the Northfield Center club is making is progressing rapidly and they are now working on a large out-door sand-box. Mr. Leland assistant state club leader, was present at the Northfield meeting. Mrs. Clifford Field is assisting Mr. Field with his handicraft club. Mrs. Field has charge of the business and social activities. It is reported that this club is fixing up a small building in the rear of Mr. Field's house for a clubhouse. They have already held one supper there.

P. T. A. Had Gathering

The Parent Teachers Association held a well attended meeting in Alexander Hall last Monday and Supt. F. E. Porter of Greenfield Schools spoke on the matter of education. Mrs. Foley of South Vernon sang several selections. Members of the Franklin County Health Association rendered a one-act play which was well received entitled, "Sour Milk Turned Sweet," written by Miss Louise F. Brand of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association coached by Mrs. F. W. Kohler. Miss Ursula Hine took the part of the newsboy and F. W. Kohler the part of the old man. The play very dramatically reflects the spirit which has made the Christmas Seal such a power for the prevention and control of tuberculosis.

Hunting Season On Not Many Deer Seen Many Out Of Town Hunters

The hunting season for deer is on and last Monday many hunters took to the woods, many in the chill hours before daylight, to be among the first to try their prowess with the gun. A light fall of snow soon after midnight Sunday doubtless helped somewhat in tracking and although this melted rapidly the leaves and lighter underbrush remained slightly damp and aided those who chose to stalk their quarry through the thickets rather than pace the roads in the hope some other hunter would drive the game into the open. Kills were not as numerous as predicted for the opening day though forest areas in certain sections literally swarmed with hunters. No accidents had been reported.

Reports are that deer are not as numerous as usual and that an unusually large number of parties from the larger cities are invading the territory coming in truck loads. Posted lands are increasing in area and probably will increase as in other parts of the state for many farmers are now determined to end trespassing without permits and stop the damage done by irresponsible hunters. Among those in Northfield reported as being successful are John N. Anderson and Frank W. Anderson.

News reports received at this office state that: "At least seven deer were taken in the Northfield mountain section of the county on Monday. Two wildcats were also bagged in the same section which fairly teemed with hunters."

Other reports are Francis Duncan, 32 Chapman street, of Greenfield, a

EDITORIAL

Christmas is approaching—the season of "good will to all men." Each of us will extend our greetings to our neighbors and friends and to loved ones and dear comrades of life's pathway and experience—as well as to the needy and poor—we will want to offer some substantial recognition of our appreciation and friendship. The Northfield Herald and its entire staff is mindful of the consideration given it by its friends wherever they are—success without this interest would be impossible. Since its inception its progress has been forward with each issue and we must acknowledge our gratitude.

The Presidential shot that hit the Navy League amidships will still be echoing on Capitol Hill when Congress gets down to business and the American people are going to stand by our President in this matter. We are paying out in this country altogether too much money for militaristic purposes and the remark of Representative Wood of Indiana made recently meets with approval.

"I think," he said, "that the President is now perfectly aware that the Navy League and others are trying to play politics at the expense of the American taxpayer. This Navy League has no interest in the country, only an interest in carrying out its own policy."

There seems to be general approval of the suggestion that the Christmas tree exercises in the town be omitted this year with its expense and that the money formerly so raised for this purpose be devoted to rendering assistance to those who are facing the winter's problem. There seems to be no objection to the placing of a tree in the small square and having it properly illuminated to maintain the Christmas spirit but it should be promptly removed after the holiday season is over. In her letter to the Public Forum of The Herald issue of November 27th "An old fashioned Sister" has struck a responsive chord.

The People's Forum

To the Editor:—

On the writer's return, a short time ago, from his ancestral home in Jamaica, Vermont he brought back an old copy of Child's Windham County Gazetteer, in which he found an item which he thought would be of interest to some of the readers of The Northfield Herald.

It is the account of a scouting party composed of 18 men under the command of Captain Eleazer Melvin of Northfield, Massachusetts.

"It was back in the remote year of 1748" the item says, "when the outposts of white settlements in this section were at Fort Dummer" (near the present township of Brattleboro, Vermont) "and at Charlestown, or Number 4 in New Hampshire." During this year Captain Eleazer Melvin of Northfield, Massachusetts, in command of a scouting party of eighteen men, met, in the vicinity of Lake Champlain, a large force of Indians with whom they were unable to cope, and so retreated towards Fort Dummer, along the valleys of Otter Creek and West River. On the night of May 30th they camped within the present limits of Londonderry Vermont and early on the following morning resumed their march. Being nearly out of provisions they halted" (about a mile from the present site of Jamaica village) "a short distance above the mouth of Bald Mountain brook to shoot salmon in West River. Here they were overtaken by the Indians, between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning, the Indians having probably crossed through the gap west of Bald Mountain, while the scouting party had followed the river which winds nearly three fourths of the way around the mountain.

The Indians fired upon the party from ambush, four men being killed at the first volley. Though taken by surprise, the little party rallied and charged on the Indians, killing several; but after losing two more men, the soldiers scattered through the forest and fled, reaching Fort Dummer during that and the following day. A party was immediately sent out from the fort, who buried the four men whose names were John Hayward, Isaac Taylor, John Dod and Daniel Mann. The other two men Joseph Petty and Samuel Severance, managed to get some distance from the scene of the fray before death overtook them, and their bodies were not found until some time after.

The Poet's Corner

Windham County Roads.

Bump up, bump down, then skew
And wish you were at home;
A patch of smooth, and then of rough
And then a little loam;
Your bounding car shakes up your head.
Then up your stomach, too,
The while you wish that "State House Gang"
Were beaten black and blue.

For May has come, and May has gone,
With June departed far.
While hot July fast speeds her days
With roads unfit for car;
Your patience slips, your temper gone,
The "gang" has got your goat
And so you swear with bated breath
They'll never get your vote.

From Burlington the roads of white
Stretch out to greet the eye
While from the State House grey
There reach
Hard roads for driving by.
St. Johnsbury looks both north and south.
O'er lines all white and hard.
But Windham County seems forgot
Upon the State House card.

All up and down the eastern slopes.
And up to Newfane old
The jaded traveller takes his way
And pays his hard earned gold;
And all the while the "State House Gang"
With hearts of adamant
Shut tight their ears to Windham's cry
The while we plead and pant.
—WALTER R. DAVENPORT.

The Old Vermont Farm.

"Most every day some city care
Comes up and jolts me back
To that old place way off beyond
The cars and railroad track;
Three thoughts of that unlimbered life.

Divide my griefs by three
And make me say, "By Ginger, Wife,
A farmer's life for me!"

I think about them stay-by things
We cooked there on the farm;
Them things that filled your back
With strength,
And filled your soul with balm;
That good dried beef, that picked-up fish.

As salt as salt could be,
I hanker still for that there dish,
It's hard enough for me.

I find new kinds of silk-faced shirts
And neckties now and then,

Laid out inside my dresser drawer,
At times as high as ten;
I'm told a Broadway tailor's cut
Corrects a baggy knee,
But boughten clothes, I tell you what
Have mostly covered me.

Years back when I took off my boots
I always looked and felt
To see if they was wearing through
Or cracking 'round the welt;
But now I have to take each shoe
And roost it on a tree.
Oh! give me back the boots I knew
And set my spirit free.

My books are not the parlor kind—
I know they're pretty plain,
The fambly calls 'em "farmers' books,"
They give my wife a pain;
But anyhow, despite their looks,
I think I'll leave 'em be,
I kinder guess my country books
Will have to do for me.

—DANIEL L. CADY.

Northfield High School News Notes

On Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Ingersoll described to the school a class in various orchestral instruments which is to be formed here soon. A series of lessons are to be given and it is hoped that an orchestra will develop from it.

On Thursday morning, after an appropriate Bible selection describing the use of various instruments and the singing of "There's Music in the Air," Miss Austin and Miss Lawley gave a short program illustrating by victrola records the chief instruments of an orchestra as they sound separately and then the result as they are combined in an orchestra and in a band. About a dozen from the school have signified their intention of joining the class. The most popular instrument is the violin but the wind instruments are also well represented.

The school was entertained at the town hall Friday night at a party given by the Sophomore class. After the Freshmen had demonstrated by trial their right to membership in the school, the rest of the evening was spent in games and refreshments were served.

Members of the French classes gave a program Friday afternoon under the direction of Miss Mann. Two stories were dramatized in French. The casts were as follows:—
 Little Red Riding Hood, by Edna Bistrek; The Grandmother, Helen Urganewicz; The Mother, Eunice Woodbury; The Wolf, Esther Schynba.

Cinderella, Dorothy Stone; The two sisters, Anna Saczawa, Catherine Saczawa; The fairy godmother, Esther Havercroft; The Prince, Myron Johnson; The Coachman, Victor Vaughan.

On December 17, the Senior girls are going to serve a chicken dinner similar to the Thanksgiving dinner which they prepared in November. The menu will be baked chicken—stuffed, mashed potatoes and brown gravy, squash, onions, bread and butter, and custard pie, all for the small sum of 35 cents. The Thanksgiving dinner was very good as some of the townspeople who bought it can testify and the girls would be glad to serve others, at school or arrange dinners to be taken out. The Seniors are providing the food for the dinner and the proceeds will go toward the Washington trip fund.

The girls are also becoming expert pie-makers. For several weeks they have made pies on Thursday to fill orders and have averaged about nine pies a week. Even at 35 cents each pie, there is some profit to be added to the Senior class treasury.

Latest Christmas Mailing Dates

To be reasonably sure of delivery before Christmas, parcels should be mailed at East Northfield, and Northfield not later than December 14, for delivery in Pacific Coast States; December 15, for delivery in Rocky Mountain states; December 17, for delivery in Middle West and Southern States; December 17, for delivery in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia; December 19, for delivery in New England states.

The words, "Please Do Not Open Until Christmas" may be written on parcels.

Last Sunday December 6th was Universal Bible Sunday and observed by many churches throughout the land with recognition also in Northfield.

The American Bible society, an interdenominational agency engaged in the circulating of the Scriptures, and which last year put into distribution over twelve million volumes of Scriptures in 285 languages, has promoted Universal Bible Sunday for over a decade. Each year an increasing number of churches in America and in foreign lands unite in the observance of Universal Bible Sunday in order to remind church-goers of the important place the Bible holds in the development of Christian life and character.

CELEBRATE WITH A WILL

After all, perhaps the best Christmas present you could make the family would be to make a will.

The suggestion does not need to be acted upon at this very moment, perhaps, but since you can never tell—why not plan to attend to it between now and the New Year?

The facilities of this bank, and our experience as executor can be commanded by a simple clause in that will. Let us talk it over with you.

Athol and Warwick Men Found Guilty Hunting Out of Season

Fines totalling $300 were imposed by Judge Elisha S. Hall in district court at Orange last Monday when Harry Britt and Lewis Venette of Athol and Medos Cummings of Warwick were found guilty of hunting a deer during a closed season. The charge was brought against the three by Game Warden Arthur Loveley who testified that he and his companion, Game Warden Hughes, had discovered a spotlight being played into the fields in Warwick near the Royalston line Sunday evening. Upon approaching the spot from which the light was being worked, they found and stopped a car containing the defendants and a companion. A shotgun was found in the car, and a spotlight and a rifle was found on the further side of a stone wall near by where it had been hidden. Ammunition for both guns was found in the possession of the defendants. The fines of $100 each were appealed by the defense attorney, C. Edward Rowe of Athol.

WHEN YOU GIVE---

OTHERS WORK

Tightened purse strings have no place in the great human spirit of Christmas gifting. Your friends may not mind it if you fail to remember them this year—but what of those millions who must miss all the hope and happiness of just a chance to work?

They don't want charity—they want a chance to earn a living. YOUR GIVING is a definite contribution towards jobs for many in retail stores, in shipping agencies, in factories.

Remember—when you give, others work.

Editor—The Northfield Herald

The sum-total of changes in the new car make it not only a distinctive addition to its price class, but a "big car" in appointments and mechanical improvements. From the enthusiastic comment of those who have had a preview of the new car, it is expected to prove a worthy successor to the highly successful lines of the past few years.

Measure The Ice Before You Skate

Parents who have difficulty in keeping their youngsters off the ice until it is perfectly safe for skating are given the rule by the National Safety Council:

Ice one inch thick is not safe. Two inches of ice will hold one person. Three inches will hold small groups. Four inches will hold large groups.

This rule should be made iron-clad in regions where ice-skating on streams and lakes is the chief winter sport. Most of the drownings reported occur during the first few weeks of winter when the ice looks safe but is not sufficiently thick in all places to sustain the skaters' weight.

Best Dogs For Children

Many a home has a pet in the way of a dog. What is the safest and best type of dog to buy for a real playmate and companion for a small child? Dog experts and child specialists have thought this all over and have suggested a list as follows:

The Newfoundland is a gentle giant, who makes a patient competent big brother for any child, but cannot fairly be kept in the city or other limited quarters.

The English setter and the Irish setter are "gentlemen" of the dog world, patient and faithful with children.

The Samoyede, snowy white, is deservedly called "the biteless dog with the human brain."

Among the terriers, particular suitability is conceded to the Irish, wire-haired fox terrier, Scottish and Cairn. All of these, and especially the first two, are keen rough-coated up and coming aristocrats, splendid playmates for children.

Last but perhaps best where a merry but rather gentle and affectionate smallish dog is desired, comes the cocker spaniel. He is an outstanding choice for a child inclined to timidity where animals are concerned.

Safety isn't a Matter of Goodwork:—It is in knowing that your car is in condition to meet an emergency like a sudden stop to avoid an accident. Be Safe, let our expert Mechanic Service Your Car. The Morgan Garage, Northfield. Adv. 4-24-41

The New Chevrolet

Chevrolet's new car for 1932 is now on exhibition.

Embodying silent synchro-mesh transmission in combination with selective free-wheeling, a twenty percent increase in power, top speed of 65 to 70 miles an hour, streamlined bodies and a wealth of other new features, the new car remains in the price range of the current series, the lowest at which a Chevrolet has ever sold.

The car boasts more extensive changes than any previous Chevrolet. Yet changes are mostly refinements over the basic design of the 1931.

Practically every proven automotive feature of recent years is incorporated in the new 1932 Chevrolet, as well as a new "stabilized" front end construction embodied for the first time on any car. Outstanding improvements in the '32 line over last year's models are down-draft carburetion, counter balanced crankshaft, smaller wheels and larger tires, radically changed front end appearance, "finger touch" front seat adjustment, cowl ventilator on all models, hood doors instead of louvers, improved clutch and an additional cross member in the frame.

Twelve standard body styles are in the line this year—three open and 9 closed Fisher bodies—all in new Duco color combinations and all with smart new features.

Of the mechanical changes, the outstanding one is the new transmission unit, which is entirely Chevrolet-built and is said to combine for the first time in any car the combination of synchro-mesh with simplified free wheeling as standard equipment. Free wheeling is provided by an over-running clutch, engaged at the discretion of the driver by a control button on the instrument panel. This optional feature enables the driver to utilize the full braking power of the engine if he desires, and to use the free wheeling.

The most striking change in exterior appearance is the new front end, which has been completely redesigned this year.

The new "stabilized" front end mounting is an important feature of the new car.

In the new Chevrolet, the fenders, radiator and headlamps are carried on a single fender support unit, which is anchored to the center of the front cross-member of the frame. This pivotal anchorage enables the front end to sway with the body as a unit, thus reducing the annoying weave as well as the possibility of squeaks and rattles developing at points of stress.

College Conference At Northfield Hotel

The New England faculty-student conference met last week-end at the Northfield Hotel with over a hundred delegates in attendance.

The conference is sponsored by the New England field council of the Men's and Women's College association. The purpose of the meeting is to study the function of the university in modern life.

Prof. Harold E. B. Speight of Dartmouth, who is chairman of the arrangements committee spoke at the opening meeting on "The Aim of a College Education." Speaking of the liberal arts course, Prof. Speight stated the aims in a threefold manner: First, a college education should afford an enrichment of life; secondly, it should link up the individual with a general world community in a significant way; and thirdly, it should result in enabling the student to achieve a philosophy of life to which he gives a personal application. In general, the constitution of college is to fit men and women to participate actively in a progressive modification of society.

On Sunday morning Prof. Henry P. Van Dusen of Union Theological Seminary led the morning devotions and a round table discussion was held on "The Religious Aspects of College Education."

The conference was thoroughly enjoyed by those present and all report a profitable time and an enjoyable stay. Delegates spoke very kindly of their reception here.

Leaders who took charge of the round-table discussions were Thomas L. Harris, advisor in religion at Harvard; Prof. Milton Connover of Yale; Prof. Warren Powell, director of social and religious work at Boston University; Prof. Gordon Allport of Harvard; Miss Margaret B. Cook of Smith college; Prof. J. W. Miller of the department of philosophy at Williams; Dr. Rayborn Zerby, professor of religion at Bates; Mrs. Frances R. Jordan, assistant dean of Radcliffe; and Miss Judith Williams of Wellesley college. Rev. Sidney Lovett of the Mount Vernon church of Boston, and Rev. Fay Campbell of the Yale Christian association were also active as leaders.

Those attending the conference coming from the Connecticut Valley colleges were: Amherst, A. Mason Appleton, Robert L. Smith and H. M. Wartz; Dartmouth, Benjamin A. Tervis; Robert L. James, Jr., and Prof. Harold E. B. Speight; University of Maine, Cecil G. Fielder, Howard W. Stevens, Ronald B. Levison, E. Worcester and Edith C. Carlson; Bates, Howard E. Paige, Rayborn L. Zerby, Olive W. Graver and Mrs. F. C. Mabee; Mount Holyoke, D. Helen Wolcott, Mary L. Sherrill, Helen Griffith, Marion Carson, Mary Jane Brown, Frances H. Beach; Williams, Robert B. Reeves, Jr., John H. Ohly, Robert E. Ebinger and J. W. Miller; Yale, Milton Connover, Charlotte E. Horton, E. Fay Campbell and Frank Fulton; Massachusetts State, Stowell C. Goding, Robert D. Hawley, H. G. Glick and Ruth D. Campbell; Bowdoin, Warren S. Palmer and G. Russell Booth; from Springfield, Charles H. Pierce, Helen A. E. Balyi, Grace E. Conn, Doyle F. Parsons, Fred G. Bratton, John Scherlach, C. C. Cowell, L. McLaughlin, C. A. Diessel and Robert L. Coe; from Smith, Katharine L. Richards, Athalia Ogden and Anna L. Matthews.

According to records kept by Christopher Columbus, the Pinzons who furnished most of the money for his expedition, drew $15.00 a month each. Columbus, as commander, drew $25.00 a month. The common sailors worked for $2.50 a month.

The entire cost of discovering America is said to have been a little less than $7,000.

On analyzing New York state's casualty list of 20 men killed and 101 wounded during the 20-day deer hunting season which ended November 15, officials of the New York conservation department have announced that apparently a large proportion of those who set out for game are inexperienced in the use of firearms. Accidents indicate clearly that many hunters are their own worst enemies, for among the 101 injured, 32 were shot by their own weapons. Most of these self-inflicted wounds, whether fatal or not, were the result, according to the best information obtainable, of inexperience.

AMERICA'S WORLD RESPONSIBILITIES

By H. J. HAAS
President American Bankers Association

WE are in a changing world, with many new financial problems for which we have no precedents, and many old problems which have so changed as to be unrecognizable. American bankers have been called into world affairs to blaze new trails of unknown finance. We may expect these calls to be more numerous in the future than they have in the past. We are the world's financial leader and we must accept the responsibility which goes with it.

Let us look to the future with confidence. Every one has experienced a great sorrow some time, perhaps so great we felt we could never overcome it, but time is the great healer and eventually we have come out of it. As it is with individuals, so it is with nations. Our nation has had much sorrow in the 155 years of its existence. In that time we have passed through the major depressions of 1837-1857-1873 to 1879-1884-1893-1896-1907-1914-1921 and the present.

I venture to state that in each of these periods there were those who had doubts of the future just as we have them today, but what happened after each depression? Our country recovered, to be better and stronger than ever. Its people were introduced to modes of living they never dreamed of, until today, notwithstanding our depression, we live on the highest plane of any nation in the world. Should we not judge the future by past experience?

Surely our people are better prepared, financially and intellectually, to cope with even greater problems than they have been in the past, so why not look to the future confident that fundamental social and economic problems will be adjusted satisfactorily?

Confidence is not established by any one thing but by an accumulation of things. If we can get confidence started in its way, gathering a little here and there, it will accelerate its speed as it goes along. This is not the work of any one man to perform but is the cumulative effort of each and every one of us. What we are in the future is not the result of what we have done on any one day but the result of all that we have done for all time. The American Bankers Association is endeavoring to do its part. Individually our efforts may not count for much, but they are part of the whole plan and taken in the aggregate they amount to the sum total of all our efforts.

PUBLIC INJURED BY BANK GOSSIP

National Association Declares
Community Interests Demand
Protection Against Idle
Rumors

BOTH in their advertising and in their direct contacts with customers and others, bankers should "consciously and persistently devote more time and thought to keeping people mindful of the fact that while the bank has many obligations toward its customers, equally is it true that the depositor also has certain obligations to the bank to enable it to properly maintain its position in the community," a recent statement of the American Bankers Association declares.

"A bank admittedly is a semi-public institution and there is a mutuality of obligation resting upon both the banker and his customers to maintain the effective functioning of that institution that is superior to the personal interests of either," it says.

Bankers might well consciously devote greater effort to building up the public viewpoint in their communities that due to their public obligations and burden of public interest, the banks are entitled to protection against ill-informed or malicious gossip and rumors, the statement says. "As to banks in some states, bank slander laws afford this protection," it points out. "We recommend that this protection be availed of by definite action wherever practical both as a matter of immediate expediency and also to awaken public opinion as to the dangers of idle gossip about a community's banking institutions."

Big Business

John, age eight, had just been promoted to SA. One day when he came home he was telling his mother about their new organization; that they had elected a president, vice president and such. Mother asked what the object of the organization was and after a moment John replied:

"To promote better citizenship."

Washington Planted Christmas Shrubbery

With the approach of the Christmas season and its almost universal display of festive holiday decorations, a timely statement from the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission calls attention to George Washington's activity in planting seeds of the holly, the shrub which more than any other symbolizes the Yuletide.

The Bicentennial Commission, ready to inaugurate within a short time the nationwide celebration in honor of his two hundredth birthday anniversary, notes the fact, recorded in his diaries, that Washington many times planted berries of the Christmas holly. The Commission believes that no other man of his time, and perhaps few since, planted and cultivated this shrub as did George Washington. The following excerpts from his diaries show his interest in this plant:

"Wednesday, 6th, (April, 1785) Sowed the semicircle North of the front gate with Holly berries sent me by my Brother John—three drills of them; the middle one of Berries which had been got about Christmas and put in Sand, the other two of Berries which had been got earlier in the year, gently dried, and packed in Shavings."

"Saturday, 23rd, (April, 1785) Sowed three Rows of the Holly berries next the row of Shell bark Hickory Nutt; leaving 2 feet Space between the Nutts and the Berries, and 18 Inches between the rows of Berries, sticking a stake down at both ends of each row."

During January of the same year, Washington made many trips into the forests on his own and neighboring estates, "in search of Elm and other Trees for my Shrubberies, etc." On one of these he discovered "many small and thriving plants of the Magnolia, and . . . some young Maple Trees; and red berry of the Swamp," and later "came across a mere nursery of young Crab trees of all sizes and handsome and thriving, and . . . several young Holly Trees."

Memorial Avenue To Link Vermont Towns

The historic Vermont towns of Bennington and North Bennington are to be linked with an avenue of elm trees five miles long, planted as a feature of the celebration of George Washington's Two Hundredth Birthday Anniversary.

Two thousand trees have already been purchased by the committee in charge of the project and planting has already begun. It will require about 1,500 trees to plant the Washington Memorial Avenue. The remaining five hundred trees will be planted throughout Bennington and in a nursery as a reserve supply for future use.

According to information received by the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission from the Bennington Bicentennial Committee, it is expected that a historical tableau will be held on this avenue on the evening of Washington's birthday next year.

Break In Hinsdale; Mann's Drug Store Entered

Recently several breaks have taken place in Hinsdale so that the selection provided special protection for the center of the town but on Thanksgiving day morning after the policeman had departed from his beat a serious break was made into the drug store of Mr. Paul Mann by persons who entered breaking the plate glass in the front door and forcing the rear entrance. Over $200 worth of toilet articles, fountain pens, watches tobacco, a radio were taken. They were seen driving away in a small truck and were overtaken by officers on the road to Northfield but abandoning the truck they fled to the woods and some of the loot was recovered. Two young men were under suspicion at Turners Falls where the coal truck had been taken but thus far no definite charges have been made.

Education In The United States

More than 29,000,000 pupils are enrolled in our public and private schools.

More than 1,000,000 teachers are engaged in training these children. Of these teachers, about 800,000 are women.

The annual cost of operating and maintaining schools of all kinds is more than $3,000,000,000. This is about $104.00 per year for each pupil in our schools.

About half of young people of high-school age are in school. Twenty five years ago, only one of ten of this age was in school.

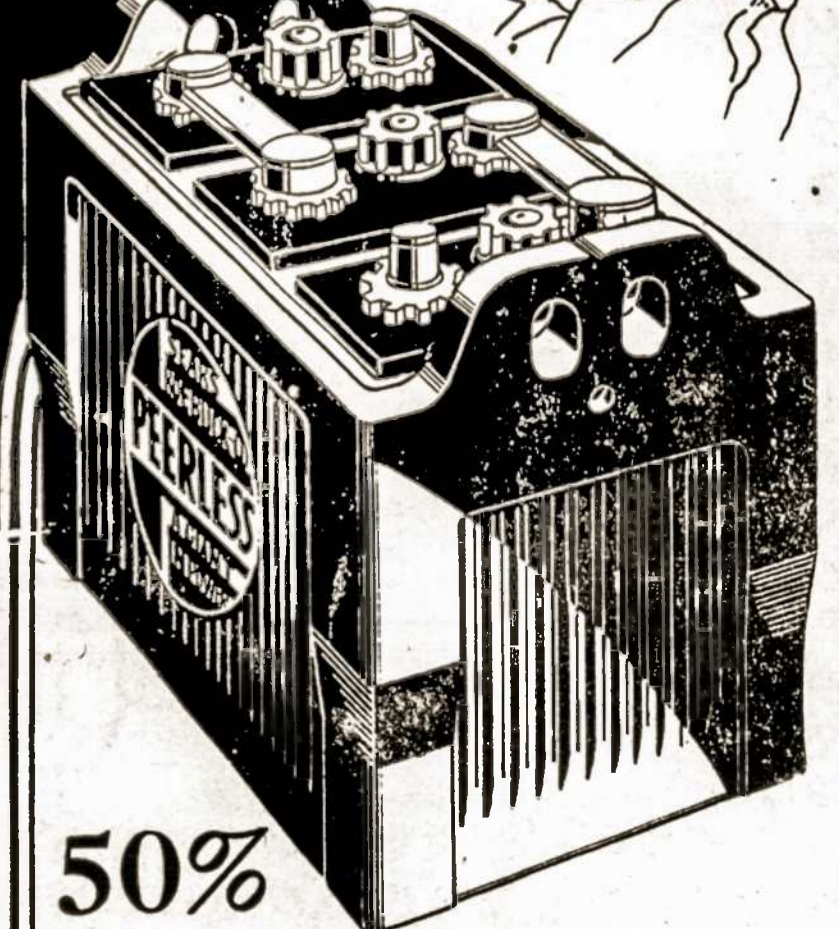

Three fourths of those enrolled in our schools reach the eighth grade. Two thirds enter high school. One fourth graduate. One twentieth graduate from college.

There are approximately 920,000 students enrolled in colleges, universities and professional schools in the United States. This is five times as many as were enrolled in institutions of a similar nature forty years ago.

These higher institutions of learning have an investment of more than 2 1/2 billion dollars and nearly $500,000 a year is available to keep them running. Approximately 67,500 professors and instructors are employed, or about one teacher for every thirteen students.

Leaves From My Portfolio

LAW OF LIMITATION—I

Our sense of things is more than half of what the things are to us; in truth, it is nearly all they are to us. We may enjoy what we imagine if it be pleasurable in character. On the other hand, we may be in the very presence of facts and not sense them, or not derive a bit of satisfaction from them, which is the same as if they were not.

Our admiration, it is also true, is in the spaces of our ignorance, or, rather, of our imperfection. We admire what we would like to be and are not. We worship the Infinite because we are finite. And yet we cannot admire that of which we are wholly ignorant, or worship that to which we are not akin. The finite is not only in the circle of comprehension of the Infinite but is part of the Infinite.

The infinite gifts come to us only on these small hands of ours, as Tagore has so aptly said. Our hands are full. That is enough in itself. But we need exchanges or renewals of blessings in the same hands that our consciousness of blessings may not be dead. For the accustomed may become the unconscious. Emerson thought that the health of the eye demands a horizon, and that we are never tired so long as we can see far enough.

The strength of a man may not be equal to the ground on which he stands, and it cannot be greater. If this be not as firm as he, he will sink in it. If it bears him up, his power may be derived largely from that which is fundamental to him. He will stand, at least, with the strength of what is under him. A man is never more than the truth which he represents. If he can be as big as the truth, he is happy indeed, and others may call him blessed in the blessedness he imparts to them.

Rowland Sill has reflected that Shakespeare would have written great novels if any such invention had been known in his day. Every man waits for some fashion to be set. None is wholly natural or original. There is an inheritance of custom, and we walk with it rather than unload. The inheritance may be a help and not a hindrance to the most. Personality is reinforced by its own kind which has preceded it and been exemplary. Happy when there is a right blending of dependence and independence, of the traditional and the free, of the historic and the prophetic.

While the intellect of the middle ages was narrow and unprogressive, tied as was to the authority of the past, the heart had its devotion and the hand upreared the noblest cathedrals of any age. Architecture flourished. The restrictions at one point left space for the freedom of achieving power, and the heart was in it. Charles Chambers Conner.

South Vernon

A very interesting program was given by the P. T. A. at the South Schoolhouse, last Tuesday evening. The meeting was opened by an organ solo by Miss Dorothy Gray. Selections were played on the Vibraphone by Mrs. E. W. Dunklee. Readings were given by Miss Brown and Mrs. R. E. Bruce. A song was sung and played by Mrs. E. P. Edson. A talk was given by the Supt. of schools, Miss Ethel Eddy of Brattleboro, to the parents on "The Environment and Health of School Children especially, the Pre-School Child."

Next Sunday the services at the South Vernon Church will be at 10.45 A. M. Sermon by the pastor, Rev. George A. Gray. 12.45 P. M. Church school. 7 P. M. Praise service, followed by a sermon. 7.30 P. M. Thursday, midweek service at the Vernon Home. 7.30 P. M. Wednesday Dec. 16, meeting at the Vernon Chapel. 7.30 P. M. Friday, Dec. 11, choir rehearsal at the parsonage. Last Sunday at the morning service the pastor, preached a very impressive sermon on the subject, "Ye Cannot Serve God and Man-kind."

Mrs. J. E. Laurence has closed her summer home for the winter and returned to the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Freeman.

Miss Eleanor Brown of Winchester is at the home of her uncle, who is ill to help her aunt care for him.

A remarkable fall we are having, leaves on the Clematis vine and raspberry bush are still green as in Spring when the thermometer has reached the low mark of zero. A short time ago, wild ripe strawberries and blossoms were found also lots of different kinds of flowers, as nice and fresh as in June.

Robert Bruce who has been suffering with a severe cold for the past week is better and has returned to Mt. Hermon.

Reports Suggestions
For School BusesThe special commission consisting of Senator Plunkett, Representatives
Ernest H. Sparrell of Norwell, William A. Brown of North Abington, and James E. Hagan of Somerville and William R. Barry of Ware, Abner S. McLeod of Greenfield and James H. Connors of Newton who have been holding hearings in behalf of the Legislature in various cities have completed their work and filed a report. They have made the following recommendations:

1. Defining as a school bus a motor vehicle exclusively used for the transportation of school pupils, carrying six or more persons.
2. Periodic inspection of school buses by the registrar of motor vehicles.
3. A minimum age - limit of 21 years for operators of school buses.
4. Regulation providing that no fuel shall be taken aboard while bus is occupied by school children.
5. That all school buses shall be prominently identified as such.
6. That emergency doors shall be provided for each bus, located in the rear.
7. That doors of all school buses shall be kept closed while the vehicle is in operation.
8. That windows of school buses shall be provided with bars or grillwork for the protection of the children.
9. Adequate protection from inclement weather must be provided.
10. Every school bus must stop not more than 100 feet from a gradecrossing.
11. Overloading of school buses limited to 25 per cent of capacity of vehicle.
12. A maximum speed limit of 30 miles an hour for school buses to operate.
13. Raising statutory limit of $5-000 compulsory automobile insurance liability as pertaining to school buses to require owners to talk policy providing not less than $10,000 liability in case of one person being injured, and not less than $20,000 liability in case of two or more being injured.

The commission says: "The regulations proposed by the commission are not drastic, in the opinion of its members. They will not work any heavy additional burdens on the already strained finances of our cities and towns. They are necessary for the protection of school children on our highways. Immediate adoption and prompt application of these regulations throughout the commonwealth will be a real step in reducing school bus accidents."David: What'll you wear? in

Syncro-Mesh Shift and Free Wheeling

ONE of the biggest driving thrills in modern motoring is now available at one of the lowest prices in the automobile market. Syncro-Mesh shifting is combined with Free Wheeling in the new Chevrolet Six.

This is the first time that these two outstanding inventions have been brought together in a low-priced automobile. Syncro-Mesh is recognized as the most advanced type of transmission ever developed by engineering science. Free Wheeling is that new, up-to-date sensation which adds so much to the zest of driving. The two make a matchless combination! They bring about an entirely new kind of driving ease and car control. They give you quick, quiet shifting and complete mastery of the car, under all conditions. They enable you to do things in driving that are impossible to do in a car without both these features.

Suppose you prefer to drive in "standard" gear, without Free Wheeling. Syncro-Mesh enables you to shift from low to second, second to high, and high back to second, with uncanny speed, silence and precision. This ability is particularly desirable when descending steep hills or traveling slippery

Then, suppose you want Free Wheeling. Simply press a convenient button on the dash. Thereafter, and until you pull the button out again, you Free Wheel. Every time you remove your foot from the accelerator, you coast along with a delightful gliding sensation. And every time you want to shift, you do so with never-to-be-forgotten ease.

But these two big features are only the start of a long list of improvements in the new Chevrolet Six. New and finer Fisher bodies, styled, finished and appointed like custom coachwork. A new stabilized front-end construction—which gives a fine feeling of steadiness while traveling over rough roads. A 60-horsepower six-cylinder engine, 20 per cent more powerful than before—much livelier, even smoother—and capable of 65 to 70 miles per hour!

Combined with this new performance is matchless economy of operation and upkeep. And finally, to emphasize Chevrolet's position as the Great American Value for 1932, the prices on these cars have been set as low as $475, f. o. b. Flint, Michigan.

Last Monday's Wrestling

Gorilla Cranston defeated Cowboy
Hughes in a hot fought contest on the Northfield mat on Monday evening.
The match was two out of three falls to a finish. The first fall was won by the Gorilla in twenty seven minutes and forty seconds by a flying mare.
The second fall was won by Hughes in twelve minutes and fifteen seconds when he tangled Cranston in a Japanese grapevine. The third fall was won by Cranston in twelve minutes with an airplane whirl and body slam.

The semi-final between Cyclone
Smith, the champion lightweight of Vermont, and the colored wrestler,
Leonard Pettyjohn of Northampton resulted in an easy victory for Smith.
He won the first fall in forty five seconds with a head lock and the second fall in eight minutes, twenty five seconds with an arm spread and wrist lock. At the conclusion of the bout, Smith was challenged by Joe Dion, champion lightweight of New England, to a contest on the Northfield mat which is scheduled for next Monday.

Ray Kervian of Northfield remains undefeated. He threw Cyclone Clark of the same town in ten minutes, twenty seconds with a headlock and body hold. Osmond Haven won over Hurricane Thompson both of Northfield in three minutes and seventeen seconds, also with a headlock and body hold.

Next week a return bout is scheduled between Gorilla Cranston and Charles Moquin of Brattleboro. The last contest closed when Moquin knocked himself out when Cranston sidestepped a flying tackle.

Do you knock on wood every time you set out for an airing in the car?

Is your heart in your mouth when you swing into a curve at a little more speed than the law allows?

There's nothing like a set of junky old tires
to take the joy out of driving.

Why worry about blowouts when you can buy sturdy Goodyear Pathfinders at present levels?

Never in the history of the automobile has tire mileage been priced so low.

Supertwist cord, Goodyear craftsmanship,
long life, safe riding.

Church News

The Goodale United Church will hold its regular service at 11 o'clock followed by Sunday School. C. E. will be held at 7 o'clock led by Kenneth Fitzherbert.

The Goodale United Church held its annual meeting of members Wednesday night. Supper was served at 7 o'clock.

Powers Institute Drama

Friday evening, Dec. 4, the Powers Institute Dramatic Club presented its first play of the school year, the farce, "A Poor Married Man." Archie Snow played the leading part as the professor who married in haste but did not need any leisure to repent when his mother-in-law came to his home accompanied by her dog to chaperone his honeymoon. Marion Martin took the part as the mercenary mother who urges her daughter into marriage and then out again taking "everything she can find." The other characters: Zoie—the professor's wife who married him because it seemed a good match and because Billy Blake had forgotten her—Virginia Newton.

June Graham—whom the professor wished had come to town a day earlier and married after Zoie left—Alice Schaufus. Billy Blake—the wealthy college student in love with "all the professor's wives"—Richard Gordon. Dr. Graham—June's father who almost gives the professor the same mother-in-law for a second time—Edwin Pratt. Miss Wilson—the college reporter—Marion Burrows. Jupiter—the negro "chamber-maid" who found some "Old Crow" and didn't care if he was poisoned—Raymond Griswold. "Darling Little Soerater"—Archie Snow's dog.

The play proceeded with a rush and a vim that pleased the audience. All the characters took their parts very acceptably.

Between acts one and two Norma Briggs' petite danseuse of Greenfield, With Mr. Sylvester Slate, Bernardston music teacher, at the piano, sang and danced very gracefully. Between acts two and three a banjo special by two Greenfield High students was enjoyed by everyone.

There was a good attendance considering the inclement weather. Nearly fifty dollars was realized from the play.

The drama was coached by Miss Eva Palmer. History and French teacher to whom a great deal of credit for the successful performance should be given.

The play goes to Leyden Friday night Dec. 11, for a second performance.

The Senior Class of Powers Institute will hold a dance at the town hall Friday evening, December 11.

Mr. Bert Stoddard suffered an accident last Sunday night at the Greenfield Railroad yards where he has worked in the last ten years. A piece of steel flew into his eyes and he was rushed to the Mercy Hospital at Springfield. The family was informed of the accident and doctors feared that he might lose the sight of both eyes. A specialist from New York was called and it was learned today that he would lose the sight of his left eye. Mr. Stoddard lives in North Bernardston.

ical attention. The car was taken to Spencer's Garage for repairs and in the evening the occupants were taken to their homes in New Jersey by Mr. Spencer.

Two well know citizens of East Northfield each driving their own cars met face to face unexpectedly when their cars came together on a curve near Moody Street. Of course each was wrong and each was right but the matter ended nicely in providing more work for the garagemen on two cars.

On the Hinsdale Road the first of the week our District Nurse had the misfortune to badly damage the appearance of her new car by having the fenders and body badly dented.

Rural Carrier Johnson on Wednesday while on his morning delivery at the Farms was greeted with a bang from another auto-driver by a Mr. Bowman of Greenfield. Henry's auto shows the dent but nevertheless he's thankful it wasn't worse.

snow. Just then, an eagle screamed. I liked this part best because with some imagination, I like to picture a little girl going out somewhere in the hills or mountains around here and taking the part of Heidi.

I liked the play Heidi very much when she was alone with her grandfather.

Heidi went up stairs to bed and said, "Grandfather throw up a sheet." Grandfather said, "Can you catch it Heidi?"

"Yes Grandfather," she said. Grandfather said, "Go to sleep Heidi."

"Yes grandfather," said Heidi. Then in the morning Peter went up to her window and said, "Heidi Heidi!" Heidi ran to the window and said, "Hello Peter."

Peter said, "Hello do you want to go with me upon the mountain?" "Yes," said Heidi. Peter said, "All right then, hurry up."

So she got ready and went up on the mountains with Peter.

(Ticket given to me for improvement in writing.)

One summer day Heidi was coming to her grandfather's. When she came she asked her grandfather if she could see what was in the house. He said she could. "But before you go put your clothes in the cupboard."

When she was in the house she asked where she was going to sleep. Grandfather said, "Anywhere you want." So she went upstairs and found a bed in the hay. She asked her grandfather if she could sleep there. He said she could. "Have you any blankets?" "No." So she said she would cover herself up with hay. He went back of the house and found some bags and gave them to her. Then she ate and went to bed. In the morning she was awakened by a loud whistle. Grandfather asked Heidi if she wanted to go with Peter. "Oh yes, yes!" "Then get up and go with the goats." After a year or two her sister came after her and took her to Frankfurt. She had a lot of fun with Clara, a little girl who could not walk. She liked to stay with Clara. Then Clara and Heidi went to grandfather's house. Then Clara's grandmother came and Clara's father came too. When they came Clara could walk a little bit.

I am glad I went. I liked the play because it was good. I got the free ticket because I improved the most in arithmetic. I'd be glad to go once more.

Eugene Galvis
Northfield Farms, Mass.
December 8, 1931

On December 4, 1931 a play was given at the Greenfield High School. The play was "Heidi". No. 4 school had three free tickets given to them by the Fortnightly club. The teacher gave the children three weeks to see who would make the most improvement in Arithmetic and writing. Eugene Galvis made the greatest gain in Arithmetic and I improved most in writing. We had no way to get there. So our teacher was going and we went with her. It was raining hard when we left.

When the play started the lights went out. Heidi and her aunt were going to grandpa's. They were climbing the mountain. Soon they came to the old hut where he lived. Grandpa was very angry because she brought Heidi up there. The next morning Peter took Heidi with the goats to the mountain. Heidi saw the eagle and the mountain on fire. Heidi was glad to live there because she could go with Peter every morning with the goats. Heidi often went to visit her grandpa. Before long she had to go to Frankfurt. She liked to live with Clara but liked better to live with her grandpa. After she went back to her grandpa, Clara went too. While she was there Clara grew so strong that she learned to walk.

I thank the Fortnightly club very much for the ticket. I liked the play very much.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Late on Wednesday afternoon on the Hinsdale Road just this side of the Stearns farm where the electric high tension wires cross the roadway, several cars closely following each other and passing others met in collisions due to the slippery condition of the highway. Some were badly damaged in head-on contacts and others were seriously damaged in striking fences and posts which were torn away. Three of the cars were towed away two by Spencer's wrecking crew to their garage while others proceeded on their way in a more or less damaged condition. No one was hurt and responsibility for the initial crash was not fixed except that on a hill and curve set brakes would not prevent the skidding and sliding.

Administrator of Northfield Auto Victim's Estate Asks For $20,000

Mrs. Nancy V. Welch of Newton, administrator of the estate of West Ceylon Aldrich of Northfield, seeks to recover on two counts for $10,000 each, one for the benefit of the next of kin, and the second for conscious suffering endured by Aldrich when he was struck and killed by an automobile driven by Chester A. Parzich of Millers Falls the night of August 12 on the road from Millers Falls to Northfield. Parzich was convicted of negligent before Judge Phillip H. Ball in district court here September 11 and fined $25. Suit has been filed in the office of Hugh E. Adams clerk of the Superior Court at Greenfield.

HUNTING SEASON ON

Francis Passing of Montague City shot a 11 pound wild cat at Northfield Monday and collected the bounty from Town Treasurer Williams.

Maxwell Robbins of Orange brought in a good sized buck which he shot not far from the Piper farm on Northfield mountain on Monday.

A truck load of some twenty hunters were unloaded on the Northfield-Warwick road on Tuesday morning. It is reported they came from Fitchburg.

Russell Annear of Riverside shot a 100 pound doe at Gill; William Koch of the Millers Falls road, 115-pound buck on Northfield mountain; Ralph Cate of Riverside, eight point buck at Barnardston.

Due to the change in game laws whereby hunters are no longer required to report their kills to Boston or to game wardens no accurate check on the number of deer shot in Franklin county is available. Opinions of hunters who have been in the woods differ somewhat but the consensus of belief is that game is considerably less plentiful than in former years.

Twenty-seven representatives of the various units of the Berkshire County Sportsmen's league, speaking for a combined membership of 2500 went on record Wednesday night at a meeting in Pittsfield, by unanimous vote to favor a one week deer hunting season in Berkshire county, to correspond with the open season of the rest of the state.

The knowledge that the farmer can post his land and virtually abolish hunting and fishing was admitted by the Springfield chapter, Isaac Walton league at a meeting recently held to consider ways and means by which the wild life of the nation, particularly that which may be found in Massachusetts may be conserved. Timber and plant life was also mentioned in the program of the conservationists.

Mr. Sidney Tyler was successful in bringing home a buck on Wednesday.

Wrestling At Greenfield

"Don" George, heavyweight wrestling champion and one of the present day leading contenders for the crown now worn by Henrj DeGlane, will be the outstanding heavyweight on the charity wrestling card to be staged in Washington hall, Thursday, December 17th. George is slated to meet the Irish grappler, Pat McKay of Pa., in the main bout, two out of three falls.

It will be the first appearance of the handsome mat star here since he won the title from Gus Sonnenberg in a California ring. In McKay he is meeting a man who will be out to beat him from the first sound of the gong.

The semi-final arranged on the card will be staged between Jim Brown, famous headlock king and Jake Patterson, one of the two amateur wrestling champions turned out at Syracuse university. Two other bouts, one between Al Mercier and Al Beveridge complete the charity card.

Wrestling is a popular sport with the fans who attend the Greenfield bouts and as many as 4,000 watched Gus Sonnenberg here in the last show presented by Paul Bowser Boston wrestler.

The rapid progress that can be made by an industry when it is conducted on a modern co-operative and scientific basis is being demonstrated in the East by the Lehigh Packing Company, of Emaus, Pa.

This company is the eastern pioneer in marketing dressed rabbit meat and fur, raised by its own associate breeders of "Cloverhill White" Rabbits. So successful has its activities been, that today the company cannot keep up with the demand for rabbit meat and fur, and as a result is bending its efforts in establishing more associate breeders.

The Lehigh Packing Company was organized in 1928 by Mr. W. D. Cogens, of Detroit, who realized the enormous possibilities of establishing a commercial rabbit breeding industry in the eastern states. After studying the flourishing condition of the industry in the western states. A man of ability and conservatism, he set about to establish a co-operative plan whereby his company and its associate breeders could mutually share in success. At his plan is practicable and sound is evidenced by the fact that endorsement has been gained from bankers, professional and business men in the vicinity of the company's $300,000 plant at Emaus, where the main work of experimentation and packing is carried on.

Mr. D. A. Fox has charge of the New England Branch with offices in Springfield. Mr. F. L. Pomeroy of Millers Falls has been appointed Manager for Franklin County, and is rapidly appointing agents in each of the 26 towns of the County, and the way people are taking hold of this project it is estimated that by the time spring opens there will be several hundred breeders in Franklin County.

One of the most fantastic stories ever written, one that has thrilled and chilled generations of readers for more than one hundred years, has been vividly dramatized on the talking screen. The story is the famed "Frankenstein," the legend of a scientist who, crazed by what he believes to be the most stupendous scientific discovery of all ages, dares to build with his own hands a human man . . . a man without a soul!

Here is a story so unusual in theme, so shockingly different in treatment, and so vividly and dramatically presented that it stands alone in the realm of fantastic entertainments. For when the scientist, Frankenstein, finally completes his monster-man, it breaks away from Frankenstein's control, escapes into the country and institutes a reign of terror unparalleled in human experience.

The leading roles in this grotesque, weird and vividly moving melodrama are played by Colin Clive, distinguished English actor of "Journey's End," Mae Clarke and Boris Karloff.

"Frankenstein" will be shown at the Garden Theatre next week starting Sunday.

AT THE AUDITORIUM, BRATTLEBORO

The Brattleboro Auditorium announces a showing of "Five Star Final" on Monday and Tuesday of next week. This film is a story of newspaper life and stars Edward G. Robinson.

He is supported by Marian Marsh, H. B. Warner, Anthony Bushell, George Stone, Frances Starr, Ona Munson, Boris Karloff, Robert Elliott, Aline MacMahon, Purnell Pratt, David Torrence, Oscar Apfel, Gladys Lloyd, Evelyn Hall and Harold Walbridge. "Five Star Final" was written by Louis Weitzenkorn. Mervyn Le Roy directed. On next Wednesday and Thursday the popular photo play "His Woman" will be shown with Claudette Colbert and Gary Cooper in the leading roll.

The story, based on a novel, "The Sentimentalist," by Dale Collins, offers Cooper exactly the type of role in which he excels, that of a lanky young leader considerably at sea on how to handle women, but lacking not a second of action when a rough-and-tumble tussle will save any girl from attentions she considers unflattering at the hands of the other fellow. Miss Colbert's work will be watched closely, her part as an abandoned girl of the waterfront being a direct antithesis of the smartly gowned portrayals in which she has scored her greatest successes.

"His Woman," directed by Edward Sloman, tells how an adventure-some and handsome bachelor and a pretty girl of the world are joined in enduring romance and happiness after a roistering experience in the tropics that starts with a womanless man's plan for bringing up a chubby little human derelict. Richard Spiro, who plays the infant part, is said to be a whole show in himself.

Nights are Sleepless for Acidity Victims!

Night after night of tossing on your bed—morning after morning of dragging yourself out more dead than alive, will soon put you "on the rocks". Nothing withers faster than a sleep-starved body! Yet many cases of sleeplessness are but cases of Acidity—an acid condition of the system.

Acidity is brought on by the formation of too much acid in the stomach. The acid upsets digestion and causes sour stomach, flatulency, gas pains and often sick stomach. Not infrequently it steals our health and strength and makes our nerves so restless that we can't sleep at night, fagged as we may be.

Especially for Acidity

McKesson's Milk of Magnesia is especially effective for acidity. It contains 32 to 40 grains of Magnesium Hydroxide. This is considerably more than the United States Pharmacopoeia requires. It is so highly antacid that a tablespoonful in a little water neutralizes 10 times its volume in acid. Its mild laxative effect makes it efficient as an internal purifier. Once you try McKesson's you will realize there is a difference in milks of magnesia. Absence of earthy or chalky taste, makes it pleasant for young or old to take.

Make this Sleep Test

Take a tablespoonful of McKesson's Milk of Magnesia in a little water before retiring for a few nights. See the results that soon show. Mark the improvement in digestion and the absence of old distress. Note how much less your nerves bother you and how much more soundly you sleep at night. A week tells the story.

McKesson's Milk of Magnesia is more economical to use. The 8 oz. bottles cost only 25c and the 16 oz. bottles only 39c. Always ask for McKesson's by name.
